In the moonlight
When the shadows play
When the thought of what could happen takes your breath away
Sighs and whispers
Quiet laughter in the air
Unspoken invitations everywhere

In the moonlight
All the words you say
Make it relatively easy
To be swept away
In the half light
Can we trust the way we feel
Can we be sure that everything is real

Stars keep secret as they wonder discreetly
While the echoes of the song go drifting by
We must be careful not to loose our way completely
All the magic that we see here
We can't be sure will be here

In the moonlight
With the moon away
And to feel each other's arms is where we meant to stay
In the love light
When our eyes have grown accustom to the daylight
You'll see what waits for us to share
For all the things we've dream of in the moonlight
Will be there

Stars keeps secret as they wonder discreetly
While the echoes of the song go drifting by
We must be careful not to loose our way completely
All the magic that we see here
We can't be sure will be here

In the moonlight
With the moon away
And to feel each other's arms is where we meant to

In the love light
When our eyes have grown accustom to the daylight
You'll see what waits for us to share
For all the things we've dream of in the moonlight
Will be there

In the moonlight
In the moonlight
