I the year 836, down through the valley of tay,

Eoganon, King of the Picts, he lost his head, but it's okay.

The viking stand needs coastal land for the long stay.

Oh viking man of the sea, you take the free as your slaves.

The vassal king of the Scots, he lost his land and his sway.

Eoganon, King of the Picts, he lost his head, but it's okay.

The viking stand needs coastal land for the long stay.

Oh viking man of the sea, you take the free as your slaves.

Come on, you've got to get it on, you've got to get some, come on come on,

Show the mighty you're strong.
