"Same Thing"

It's not ingenious thinking to stand on a corner and hold up a sign your gonna get something for nothing that'll take care of the problem of having to use your mind sure you might've been something you ain't willing to put in your time now you've turned into nothing and it's 1995 it's the same thing in the wrong time it's in everything you find what is yours is gonna be mine I know what you've been thinking everything's gone washed up and died I don't see you doing nothing there's not a hard bone left in your spine your always talking about something but you don't mind being left behind how ya doing? feel nothing? now that your 35 it's the same thing in the wrong time it's in everything you find it's gonna blow up so nevermind
