Goodbye Jim & Jackie, goodbye John & May
We hate to see you leaving, bound for the USA
But if you don't believe your country should come before yourself
Ya can better serve your country, by living somewhere
else

I know the times are changing, factories closing down
But if you stay and help us, we can turn these things around
But if you don't believe your country should come
before yourself
Ya can better serve your country, by living somewhere
else

And while our politicians, divide our precious land We speak in French & English, but they still don't understand
If you don't believe your country should come before
yourself
Ya can better serve your country, by living somewhere
else

In a land that's short on heroes, they trade our jobs away
And we don't need no zeros to come and help us save the day
So if you don't believe your country should come
before yourself
Ya can better serve your country, by living somewhere
else

And if you should find your heaven, where stars & stripes are flown You'll learn to stand more proudly, than you ever stood back home
And they'll tell you that your country, must come before
Or you'll have to serve your country by living somewhere else

So goodbye Jim & Jackie, goodbye John & May

We hope that you'll be happy, living in the USA Cause if you don't believe your country should come
before yourself
Ya can better serve your country, by living somewhere
else

If you don't believe your country should come before
yourself
Ya can better serve your country, by living somewhere
else
