It's been 2 years i've forgot
The way that it feels
To hold on to something
And i thought you were real

With criminal alibis
To cover up the lies
The stain on my shirt
That i just can't get out

My memory clouds and it serves me right

You might bite your tongue
And i might bleed a little bit
And now your choking on your words
As you starve on every one i've said

If i am wrong then who is right??

[repeat chorus]

You might bite your tongue
And i might cry a little bit
And now i'm choking on my words
As i find that my stomach was full
I'm a fool
