"The Maritime Waltz"

When the moon gives her light
On the harbour tonight
We'll dance the Maritime Waltz

When the boats are tied in
And we're together again
We'll dance the Maritime Waltz

The fiddles will play
And our hearts shall be gay
For tomorrow the sea again calls
So kiss me once more
While I am ashore
And we'll dance the Maritime Waltz

When the moon gives her light
On the harbour tonight
We'll dance the Maritime Waltz

When the boats are tied in
And we're together again
We'll dance the Maritime Waltz

The fiddles will play
And our hearts shall be gay
For tomorrow the sea again calls
So kiss me once more
While I am ashore
And we'll dance the Maritime Waltz

We'll dance to the Maritime Waltz
