Rachel's Song

Slowly my life begins to fade
I try to crawl away
But it's hard when you've been stabbed in the back
It's hard when the world has turned black
I can't get away from this
Can't get away from this
Can't crawl away from this

Gently I begin to break
I just want to wake
Just like all that I have ever been
I'm tired of living in such a sin
I can't get away from this
Can't get away from this
Can't crawl away from this

Come pretty seed, suffer like me
With me
Come with me, bleed with me
With me
Never ever speak a word again, for me
Never ever speak a word again, for me
Come pretty fruit, suffer like you
With you
Gone with you, bleed with you
With you
I hope that I'll someday see you again, lover
I hope that I'll someday see you again, lover
Hope that someday
See you again...
