Stoney Larue
"Finelines"

I can't blame my thoughts cause I just think them
I can't blame my beers cause I just drank them
Oh don't try to tell me that you figured out my past
And the love I shed for you somehow won't last

Chorus:
Cause I know me, and you know you Yeah together I think we can make it through the hard times
Yeah if loving me means hating you
I still try my best to keep it between the fine lines

Waking up means feeling good and I thank you
Oh but girl, when I feel bad that's my own damn shame
I don't blame you
But don't you tread on me my baby doll, no, no
Hey, if you weren't there to catch me I'm afraid I'd fall

(Chorus)

Yes I do

Finally I figured out just what I need from you Girl it ain't half as much as we've already been through Hey we're forever bound by a diamond and child
And the Holy Ghost will bubble meek and mild

And he knows me yeah he knows you too
Yeah he's got faith that we'll make it through the hard
times
Why don't you? Loving me, girl cain't be hating you, no, no
I still try my best to keep it between the fine lines

Yeah I try my best to keep it, cause you and I gonna reap it,
Yeah I try my best to keep it between the finelines
