i wonder how she knows i almost didnt make it all of the way home last night did she watch me hold the wheel too tightly or maybe i resemble the way that shes looking.
to find herself a new life.

and now i guess i made you go the other way, without
you
and i wish you would say youll stay a little bit longer with me
and i know that you wont.

so there has got to be a glitch somewhere with my name written all over it and she knows, i spent too much time in my room cant find a way to get my head through my chest into my own heart.

you
with me
and i know that you wont.

so this is my, its my real life and im trying to pass it off on you.
its mine, its my real life
and im trying to pass it off on you.

so this is my, this is my real life
and im trying to pass it off on you.
i stay here starry eyed notice that this city line something looks different tonight you look different tonight.

so i know you better find another way to get rid of me because im not going down so easily
so i know you better find another way

because im not going down.

and im trying to pass it off on you.
i stay here starry eyed
something looks different tonight
you look different tonight.
