and if i saw you again (what would happen) cause since then my mind has been thinking of when i first saw you i knew my life was over before it began
and things would never be the same

over and over again
am i still allowed to dream or did i peak at 17
and did we miss it

and when i knew i was in deeper than i could be i thought i knew what i wanted but i dont know anything, at all

or did i peak at 17

when everything tasted so sweet and my best friend was not defeated
i would never run away from my dreams
and things would never be the same

hey, did we peak at 17

since then my mind had been
ever again.
