Roma I Hail your timeless glory overwhelming's your might (no) mortal man stood against you the whole world beheld in awe of all times the greatest empire has risen, never to fall not a war that couldn't be won for each enemy was slain Ram the crosses so they all can see open wide the Colosseum's gates

"When the light of blade, enlight the shades storm of blazes, shine bright on fighting date spirits of war I call, enlight the shades spirits of war I call, prepare for mighty war" In my heart the memory still lives unforgotten's your past your splendor far brighter than the sun your beauty amazes me as I stare the gods still watching over you from a majestic sky among your eternal walls is where my spirit has to be Forever Roma to you I belong
