Another year is gone so fast
Another life becomes the past
Under the weight of dreams
That I never thought would last
Feelings clash
And set a light across the globe
This window seat becomes my home
I lie awake for hours
Staring at the world below

Into the ways again I go
Holding on to you
I found a way to make it through
By holding on to you

Another night has slipped away
Wishing the time would let me stay
Stuck in between two lives
That could never be the same
I remain without a chance
To say to you that
Every word I said was true
I lie awake all night
Just staring back at you

Into the ways again I go
Holding on to you
I found a way to make it through
Holding on to you

Just one more day
Well make it through
Will you still feel the same way
That I do? That I do

Holding on to you
Noo
You feel the same way I do
Holding on to you
Noo

Into the ways again I go

Holding on to you
I found a way to make it through
Holding on to you

Into the ways again I go
Holding on to you
I found a way to make it through
So Im holding on to you

Just one more day
Well make it through
Well make it through
