It's not what you will say it's what you have done to let this come between us you're right without a fight it might be worth it to you and in the process has gotten to me i think that nothing can fly with this broken wing there's so much to hold on to now nothing can fly with this broken wing so here's a gift in this feather you've gone too far i'm standing alone lets sort this out together

you're right without a fight and it might be worth it to you but i can't take this anymore

from this house of our friendsip shut the door and light the match throw behind you walk away you burn it down

these ashes

these ashes

these ashes burn
