

Story Of The Year "Remember A Time"

Can we open the pages
To remember a time
When the images focused
And the planets were aligned
All the stars up above us
Let us travel through time
They erase all the distance
Separating you and I
Now this glass will get me through the night
As the storm blows over
I know ill be all right

It's no surprise
That the feeling has changed
And the years have slipped away
Through the hands of time
Open your eyes
Cause that promise we made
That our light would never fade
It'll never die

In the light of the morning
In the dark of the night
We were balancing moments
On the thin edge of a knife
Can we dig up forgiveness
Will we bury the lies
Can we fill all the voids left by the hardest of goodbyes

It's no surprise
That the feeling has changed
And the years have slipped away
Through the hands of time
Open your eyes
Cause that promise we made
That our light would never fade
Will never die
Never die

There was a time when we felt light years away
Some how we never let hope or our pictures fade
There was a night when we let go of our fears

Some how we never disappeared
It's no surprise
That the feeling has changed
And the years have slipped away
Through the hands of time
Open your eyes
Cause that promise we made
That our light would never fade
It's no surprise that we all have changed
And the years have slipped away
Through the hands of time
Open your eyes
Cause that promise we made
And will never die
Never die
