"A Promise To Resist"

Whatever tomorrow holds through thick and thin I'll never fall
On this road to the unknown I'll never step back I'll open closed doors I'll walk the way until the end of the road
I'm not gonna resign with that obsession stuck in my mind
I'll never let this future be my own failure

As a promise to resist I'll get by as a promise to persist
I'll rise
And I'll never make this sacred oath a lie
As a reason to exist I'll never give up
On these precious dreams I've been chasing for so long

Despite confusion and weakness Fears and darkness I'll make it through Every single day I'm striving to write a brighter story in my life's diary
I won't turn my eyes away I won't let go I'll carry on

As a promise to resist I'll get by as a promise to persist
I'll rise
And I'll never make this sacred oath a lie
As a reason to exist I'll never give up
On these precious dreams I've been chasing for so long
