Carefree times are gone
Innocence is no longer
Never ask yourself out

Never question the truth you're given Never give it a second thought believe compromising lies
Keep your eyes shut and you'll never know
How deep the cut can be it makes it all so easy

You're like a dead woodstuck floating on water
Inanimate losing control on your fate
Nothing's ever really as it seems to be

Ignorant bliss will ensure your peace of mind
Why pretend that you're blind and you can't read between the lines
How bright does light have to shine before you can see clearly

You're like a dead woodstuck floating on water
Inanimate losing control on your fate
Nothing's ever really as it seems to be

So why pretend that you're blind and you can't read between the lines [x2]
