

Strange Occurrence

"Fear"

I once knew a girl in my life
Scared of what people may say
She locked herself in late at night
Scared of what people may do
Some say that she was afraid
I say the girl is like me and you
She was in need of a friend
Someone to just lend a hand
I said, "You can confide in me
I'll help you be all that you can be
It didn't take long to find I was scared too
Trust me I'll pull you through"
We all have a fear deep inside
It causes us all to go hide
Scared of what people may do
Scared of what people may say
Pretending that things are okay
Crying inside when we don't get our way
