

Michael Tolcher

"All Love For Good"

Visit "All Love For Good" on MotoLyrics.com

Day is just dawning
Late autumn sounds
And I'm out here watching
My breath become clouds
Those limbs seem so bare
Were yesterday green
Now I feel winter in me
Who knew your summer
Would go by so fast
We needed your autumn
Of golden to last
Oh, if you can hear me
Send down your laugh
Cause I need this
The world needs your kiss
And we all miss you still
Isn't all love for good
How do we get this misunderstood
God doesn't care who we love
Just that we do
I found the letters
You mailed in my dreams
I knew you were saying
That now you have peace
I guess now you've finally found
A world in between
And you send letters to me
I'm gonna climb up that headland
And roll out this string
I'm gonna let fly my kite
Like we did back then
And I'll know that you're with me
When you whisper up there
Oh, I still hold your memory
And your heart beats so near
Isn't all love for good
How do we get this misunderstood
God doesn't care what we love
Just that we do

