

Michael Tolcher

"Raining Away"

Visit "Raining Away" on MotoLyrics.com

Where were you, yeah when I didn't know what to do
Everybody had two friends looking for you
And I was wishing that you hadn't got away from me
I thought I was through yeah with the little game we played
But I find that I'm missin' it more each day
And I'm raining, raining, raining away
On this lonely avenue, all that ever I ever knew of you
Is that I miss you most when it's raining
If it's cloudy and grey I can almost hear you say
That it's me and my love that you believe in
But you must go your way, there will be another day
Now it's raining away, it's raining away
Where were you, when I needed you next to me
When I needed you so bad I could barely see
And I waited for a letter but it never did come Oh there never was a day that I did not speak your name
I had a dream that you would come today
Had it so many times that I can't say
Now I'm under a cloud and it's raining away
On this lonely avenue, all that I ever knew of you
Is that I miss you most when it's raining
If it's cloudy and grey I can almost hear you say
That it's me and my love that you believe in
But you must go your way, there will be another day
Now it's raining away, it is raining away

Visit Michael Tolcher page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.