"Invisible Person"

No one really pays attention
He sits at the side of the road
Just an invisible person,
Yearning for someone to hold.

Something's missing in his life,
He's worresome and full of shame.
He just thinks of one thing only,
His heart has never been the same.

What do you want?
Something you forgot.
More, more, more,
You think of them alot.

Something's missing in his life,
He's worresome and full of shame.
He just thinks of one thing only...
Your the only one to blame!

What do you want?
Something you forgot.
More, more, more.
You think of them alot...
You think of them alot...
You think of them alot...
You think of them alot!
