Looking into the past and see
A totally different side of me,
I've gone regressive and derelict.
An intellectual wasteland,
But I'm doing the best I can
To keep on getting the things I get.

So where's my life?
I lost track I know,
A couple years ago
And now I just don't know
No, I just don't know
I don't know where's my life
I lost track I know,
A couple years ago
I don't know where's my life.

Lately things aren't going do well,
I feel like crap and I look like hell
It may have something to do with this.
On a merry-go-round,
Filling up while you're going down
And now I'm bleeding through a cist.

So where's my life?
I lost track I know,
A couple years ago
And now I just don't know
No, I just don't know
I don't know where's my life
I lost track I know,
A couple years ago
I don't know where's my life.

I don't know where's my life.
