he walked up behind her in the market that day he never thought that they would reunite this way...

his heart started beating after 4 years being dead so he tapped her on the shoulder and this is what he said i never.. stopped loving you its been a long road

but something lead me home to you

she looked in his eyes as tears ran down her face she never thought that she would get the chance to say

i'm sorry... that i left here that day but now that i found you in my heart is where you'll stay cause i never stopped loving you.

there wasnt a day that i didnt pray that something would lead me to you but now that ive found you i cant live without you so promise me you'll never go away

but something lead me home to you (x2)
