It's time, it's time to say good bye
I'm not staying here, I'm not staying
While your waiting, I'm gonna live my life
You've built this prison and the clock is ticking.

We're all dying? no, we're already dead.
I haven't breathed since the first time you said
"I'm gonna change, I'm gonna change for good"
But every time we talk I still hear You say

"I know that I'm better"
Yeah, well that's not enough
You say
"I'll try to be better"
Yeah, well show me what's up
Because the clock is ticking, it's ticking today
Coming closer and closer
To throwing your life away

I've escaped this prison
Now the clocks hands are mine
I've escaped this prison
I can see the sun rise

It's time, it's time to say good bye
I'm not staying here, I'm not staying
While your waiting, I'm gonna live my life
You've built this prison and the clock is ticking.

Yeah I'm doing fine
Doing fine like a walked on land mine
I want to scream like the day I was born
Gonna start making changes I'm not sorry anymore
And Yeah I've failed before
But you can see me die trying, never scared of being poor
Never bent for the rich, never gave a shit
When will you listen to this? you sorry son of a... ah fuck
it

You say you have all you need

But you're losing it all
And I refuse to be the one
That's gonna watch you fall

I've escaped this prison
Now the clocks hands are mine
I've escaped this prison
I can see the sun rise

Are we all dying? no we're already dead
We're all dying? no we're already dead
I haven't breathed since the first time you said
Are we all dying no we're already dead

It's time, it's time to say good bye
I'm not staying
It's time, it's time to live your life
Cause the worlds not waiting
