Twenty years running, I'm hopelessly caught in this maze
Well I dart around corners through corridors that all look the same
I'm revived by the sound of your voice as you whisper my name
With each step that I take I more fervently taste my escape

I can feel it like it's pouring through my veins
I give all that I have
Cause I'm hoping this maze will unfold
Right at your door, baby

And when I get home you're all that I need
And when I grow old you're all that I need
Azraline, my queen

I spent twenty years floating and I'm hopelessly stranded at sea
Well I'm searching for green in this fusion of blue around me
I steer for the horizon at the corner of the world
Where the advent of a zephyr and the swelling of a purl
Let me know I'm close

I can feel it like it's pouring through my veins
I give all that I have
Cause I'm hoping this breeze carries me
Onto your shore, baby

And when I get home you're all that I need
And when I grow old you're all that I need
I know it's a long way
But I'll get there someday
And when I get home you're all that I need
Azraline

And I know there's a thousand miles dividing us
And no, I won't 'til I'm standing in your door give up and

I know it won't be long
Now that I found out where to go
I don't need much
I don't need much
Just open up and let me in

And when I get home you're all that I need
And when I grow you're all that I need
Oh it's a long way
But I'll get there someday
And when I get home you will be all I need You'll be all I need
Azraline, my queen
