Day by Day
World is falling day by day
Living blindly nothing change
I think of my future and see only desilusions
Then I can realize
I'm just waiting my time
I'm just waiting my fucking time to die

Can't you see I just want to stay alone

Today life is just some words on my door

All this noise around me seems like silence

And I feel I'm coming back to dust

One day I tried to trust
I just found a big lie
When you asked me to believe
I tried it hard
I knew many religions
And in the end I hated all them
Don't know where I left my faith
Now I can't hear your call

Can't you see I just want to stay alone

Today life is just some words on my door

All this noise around me seems like silence

Now I feel I'm coming back to dust.
