I'm tired of accepting the things that make me sad.
I'm tired of only talking about it.
I really want to do something to change it.
And I know I can so I don't care if it hurts someone.
I make my day. I make my own justice.
And I don't care if it will hurt someone.
I just want to change it and for this I'll be forever strong.
It can be painful and violent.
The tears will come as blood.
But I don't care if it hurts someone.
I just want to change it and I know... I know I can.
