"Less Than Your Words"

You try to make your rules.
But you never do what you say.
You talk about revenge.
But you stop it along the way.
Out of my way. find another way.
Cause you're just like your enemies.
Just like the ones you reject.
You can't answer your own questions
And I'm sure you don't know why.
You create your brand new scapegoats.
So there's someone to criticize.
Still looking for.
But there's no place for you.
No reason or choice.
What else can you do?
