We're not waiting for a way
To take us to another place
The confusion is growing
And I don't know who is who
We're not waiting for a way
To take us to another place
The confusion is growing
And I don't know
We have a future that I'm still looking for
And we can find it if you want
Try to live your life without illusions, try to
Find your personality that is going down
They want to turn off our lights
They also want to steal our lives
So we need to build together our own way
We have a future that I'm still looking for
And we can find it if you want
Try to live your life without illusions, try to
Find your personality that is going down
Together we build our own way [x2]
