Solar scream when night turns off as the hot flowers' splendour

Warm liquid oxygen is getting brighter and my heavy breath reaches the end Never stop is only one of fables
I've just wanted to leave my souvenir behind each mask are hidden eyes of fear

It might be only my another schizm, because boundary between java & dream disappeared a long time ago
Behind us million miles of transgalactical trip But we are standing now at the beginning of transcendental route...

Deformed masks in hellborn porno-smile hide torment and pain

and my heavy breath reaches the end
Never stop is only one of fables
I've just wanted to leave my souvenir

Hallucinations, phatamorganas
And where is my oasis?
