Here's to all the babies
that I'll never have This house is empty and I don't feel sad

Here's to all the babies
that are here right now
I want to love them
I will somehow

I stole this body
to make this trip
when I left heaven
to find your lips
I came to kiss you
and touch your face
then disappear
without a trace

In love, In love, In love, In love, In love
In love, In love, In love, In love, In love
In love, In love, In love, In love, In love
In love, In love, In love, In love, In love

I have a baby
in my chest
I nurse the heart
with every breath
I am a baby
inside this dream
where demons laugh
and angels scream

I stole this body
to make this trip
when I left heaven
to find your lips
I came to kiss you
and touch your face
then disappear
without a trace

In love, In love, In love, In love, In love
In love, In love, In love, In love, In love
In love, In love, In love, In love, In love
In love, In love, In love, In love, In love

If you need a baby
then when I die
I will find your belly
and crawl inside
