Awake
because You came to me I'll ache
until You come through me
Drunk
because You kiss me
and grace begins to kill me

and I am so in love
I want to lose my life

You are within me
but all my tunnels miss And anything I build You pulls you from my chest Anything I build you brings me emptiness

I'm reaching for Your light
my hand in an eclipse Even if I am silent
my throat is full of this:

I am so in love
I want to lose my life

I block the light
where you should appear so color me clear
