I'm at the ocean, standing on it's floor the sand beneath my feet pins me to it's shore I taste the salt filling up my lungs not half as bitter as my life here had become

After all I'm the one who dies
the one who loses his childhood eyes
I find my closure at the sea
Goodbye to me

I'm floating heavy, sinking half below six feet from freedom when I let my spirit go Inside I'm searching for the tunnel filled with light but only darkness swallows up my fading sight

After all I'm the one who dies
the one who loses his childhood eyes
I find my closure at the sea
Goodbye to me

And they'll all wished they'd saved me when I'm dead and gone they'll say "How can we go on?"
But no one seems to notice till you're in the earth what your precious life was worth

After all I'm the one who dies
the one who loses his childhood eyes
I find my closure at the sea
Goodbye to me
