There is nothing in between us when we sleep
Every night the bliss begins to leak
Nothing in between us when we laugh it's something that our head will never grasp

It's seen in between

There's nothing in between your joy and mine
It's all a lot of nectar on the vine
Joy is how my parents were entwined and there's nothing in between their lives and mine We've seen

There's nowhere to hide in the open Reality
Love is so wide, there isn't a boundary
There is only one eye without any enemy when you've seen in between

There's nothing in between our skin and light
Nothing in between the wind and kite
Nothing in between our lips and grace
Nothing in between the tongue and taste
It's seen

(Refrain)

There is nothing in between you and I
Nothing in between blue and sky

Nothing in between us and love
Nothing in between wings and doves

(Refrain)

There is nothing in between
