I don't know why, I shouldn't have told you I should Have lied and told you everything was fine
I should Have known, you'd be better off alone

I wanna take you where the eagles fly
I wanna take you there again
I wanna take you where theres time to spare
I wanna take you there again

Our love wont last, you and I were wrong from the start even in the past, one man stands with broken heart lable of mankind, love is just an illusion of the mind love

I wanna take you where the eagkes fly
I wanna take you there again
I wanna take you where theres time to spare
I wanna take you where the sky ends
to where the sky ends

We were Both so young, your parents wouldn't understand you were so afraid, that we wouldn't make it in this age so we left this space and time, to move on to another life

I wanna take you where the eagles fly
I wanna take you there again
i wanna take you where theres time to spare
I wanna take you where the sky ends
to where the sky ends
to where the sky ends
