"A Lesson In Insensitivity"

Visit "A Lesson In Insensitivity" on MotoLyrics.com

Hello, this is Sally Smothers Like me you probably noticed that in America our inner cities
Are filled with people who call a sewer grate home
And some can't remember their last meal The luxuries most of us have worked our whole lives to obtain Will most likely never be experienced by these, less fortunate souls

Howdy folks, John Neighborly here
We in the Mojo family would like you to join in the fight to help these people Our progressive out-reach program starts with bringing the want ads section From local newspapers to the attention of these victims
Then we begin kicking them and screaming "Get a fucking job you bums! You make me sick! I want to kill you!"
We feel that our radical techniques have motivated our less fortunate citizens As well as provide a much needed tension release for our over taxed population
