I'll take some time to tell you what to do

'Cause it seems you need a little help with trying to make do

See I've got a little anger for people just like you

So lets cut off that mullet and make some redneck brew with me

I used to know (yeah) someone just like you

So lets grab some gasoline and exorcise the racist fools

I used to know someone just like you

So lets light some matches up, cleanse some sexist
fools with me

Lets take a look at what you have been through

When you play the cards that's dealt and try to make do

See I've got a little anger for people who abuse

So lets state a claim right now, make our dreams come true with me

I used to know (yeah) someone just like you

So lets grab some gasoline and exorcise the racist
fools

I used to know someone just like you

So lets light some matches up, cleanse some sexist
fools with me

So lets grab some gasoline and exorcise the racist
fools

I used to know someone just like you

So lets light some matches up, cleanse some sexist
fools with me
