Gilbert -

You know what they say there's no way

You haven't got a chance at that romance

And look at us we're fighting again

Will it ever end? Will we be friends?

Or do you turn around and lie to try and get by

Please don't look me in the eyes I'm dying inside

Is there something I can say to make you stay?

And if it's not the same we'll go our separate ways

What comes next is hard to explain

Never meant to cause any type of pain

It's just the way that things must be when you set me
free

I'll set you free, so set me free

I know what you think it's not that way

So easy to escape the traps we create

There is no us if we have to pretend

Every now and then the way it's always been

And then you turn around and hide in your perfect disguise

Please don't look me in the eyes I'm dying inside

Is there someone else you need you wish was me

It isn't how it seems wake up from your dream

You want someone's trust it's hard to attain

You wonder what is wrong your love is so vain

It's just the way that things must be when you set me
free

I'll set you free, so set me free

Look at us we're fighting again

Will it ever end? Will we be friends?

Or do you turn around and lie to try and get by

Please don't look me in the eyes I'm dying inside
