You think you're lucky 'cause they tell you so
You're standin' here and you don't know why
You might be lucky but you won't be free
Until you break out and scream

Been standin' in the dark for such a long time
'Cause I've been living everyday inside these walls, no letting go, no fire
Now I'm tearin' it up, I'm breaking my defenses
Give myself away, I'm tired of living life just waiting for it all, not taking chances, waiting for a call

'Cause we are the ones screamin' in the dark
And we are the ones lightning up the spark, yeah

You think you're lucky 'cause you have your place
Think you belong but you have no say
You may be lucky but you won't be free
'Til you break out of the line

I've been standin' in the dark for way too long now
'Cause I've been living everyday insede this fear of letting go, no fire
Now I'm tearin' it up, I'm breaking my defenses
Give myself away, I'm tired of living life just waiting for it all, not taking chances, waiting for a call

'Cause we are the ones screamin' in the dark
And we are the ones lightning up the spark, yeah
Stand between the phases with nothing left to fear
'Cause we are the ones screamin' in the dark

Ooh, breaking you down, they're breaking you down
Throwing you 'around, it's such an easy system
I'm givin' it up (I'm givin' it up)
I'm tearin' it up, I'm bringin' it down

'Cause we are the ones...
