Guilty of the old excuse
Of losing myself to you
But I'm only human
I think in time things can only get more confused
If I make the same mistake
Of thinking it's all quite plain
Please excuse my ignorance
But I've never felt this before

In love for the first time
Our hearts beat almost in time
And nothing else seems to matter

There's nothing else that's on my mind
I have no sense of time
Only necking, mating
I think you'll know when we're apart the time goes so slow

In love for the first time
Our hearts beat almost in time
And nothing else seems to matter

And where to start I do not know
These things take time
And time to grow

Now nothing else is on my mind
I have no sense of time
Only necking, mating
I think you'll know when we're apart the time goes so slow

In love for the first time
Our hearts beat almost in time
And nothing else seems to matter
