"Open Window"

The way the sun lights your face,
A window from the clouds, a sign to guide my way.
And I hear your voice calling me out from where i
stand, you stand so tall.
And I , I know, That I, Found my way back home.
The way the sun lights my face,
A window from the clouds, a sign to guide my way.
And I hear your voice calling me out from where i
stand, you stand so tall.
"Higher than the highest mountain, Deeper than deepest sea.
The waves in reflections of everything i come to know
Shine like the sun on the brightest day.
Wings spread out over my head shade me from the burn
And protects me from the world outside, the world outside."
I, I know, That I, I found my way back home.
