It smelled like junipers
the day that you left some kind of fairy tale
i didn't invent

oh, these days
the best that i had
you were summertime
summertime, summertime

the warmth of those lovely days is still on my skin
oh how those golden rays
it swallowed me in

oh, these days
the best that i had
you are summertime
summertime, summertime

it all fades away
it all fades away

laying in blades of grass
the earth through my feet bare neck and shoulders that tasted so sweet

the best that i had
you were summertime

and it all fades away

cold winds and rainy days have torn us apart
at least that is what we say the truth would just hurt

the best that i had
you were summertime

oh, these days
the best that i had
you were summertime
summertime, summertime
summertime, summertime, summertime
