(Jan Hammer & Colin Hodgkinson)

A busy airport in a boring town
You bought your ticket and I knew you meant it
While we stood in line we didn't even try

Three car crash on a two lane bridge
We never really had an understanding
I'm really glad it's over now
Goodbye...

All you are is part of yesterday
Just a headline on some wrapping paper
Still in the end it turned out to be a lie

Now there's nothing standing in my way
Not even memories of the few good moments
I carry nothing' I'm so light that I could fly
Goodbye
