Take a trip down to the West side
Just follow your heart and leave
Take a trip down to the West side
Just follow your dream and leave
It's when everyone around you is trying to cheer you up
While you are feeling down
It's when everything around you reminds you that It's gonna be hard to go through
She'll never know how much it counts
Now you are gone and she's on her own again
She'll never know how much it counts
Now you are gone, stealing her own plan
Going for the master plan
It's when you know that the race is almost over
And you'll never have another chance
Just take all your gear and leave a little note
'Cuz "I'm leaving for L.A.... yeah"
