"Altars Of Pride"

Visit "Altars Of Pride" on MotoLyrics.com

Time has gone and no one realized that

A future which now is present built through intense devastation of the natural essence

Just individuality survived so far, and now?

We wont believe in false promises no more

Cause now we are able to listen life asking for help

We wont believe in false promises no more

Cause now we are able to feel the truth pulsing in our hearts

We wont wait for a better world

Cause this world has been built by all of us

It is necessary that each one walk step by step

In the course of destruction of the altars of pride

Preparing the journey for the new destiny
