I can't hear what you say
Your voice slowly melts away
You're so thin and frail
You're see-through
I see love
It's draining out of you

Your mouth moves but I can't hear
Like a faint whisper in my ear
Vague words
They just make no sense
Your name carved in silence
Your name carved in silence
Your name carved in silence

I can't hear what you say
Your voice slowly melts away
You're so thin and frail
You're see-through
I see love
It's draining out of you
I see love
It's draining out of you
I see love
It's draining out of you

Your mouth moves but I can't hear
Like a faint whisper in my ear
Vague words
They just make no sense
Your name carved in silence
Your name carved in silence
Your name carved in silence
