So we'll live for the future
Yeah we'll live for our dreams
In a world made of different colours
There for you and me

Like the sky in the morning
Like the sycamore trees
Everything made of different colours
Same as you and me

And when you smile
The child in me believes
And for awhile well I forget
Yeah I forget to breathe

And like the sun in the morning
Like the icy blue sea
Everything made of different colours
Same as you and me

Just like the trash on the ocean
Like the wintery trees
Different pieces of different colours
Same as you and me

And when you smile
The child in me believes
And for awhile well I forget
Yeah I forget to see

They're just colours
Colours like you and me
Colours like you and me

Like the sky in the morning
Like the sycamore trees
Everything made of different colours
Same as you and me
