See the sun drip from the sky
Mascara stains clouding your eyes
Slowly the raindrop falls

See the rain fall from the day
The fire escape is leading the way
Somewhere a taxi calls

You're leaving girl
To seal your fate
Leaving girl
To run, run away

To see the sun
To see the light
Leaving girl, live your life

I see your love has slipped from your life
The winter sun and suburban skies
Are calling your name this time

I see the rain
Fall from the day
The fire escapes the blues and the greys
Will always remain the same

So you're leaving girl
To seal your fate
Leaving girl to run, run away
To see the sun, to see the light
So you're leaving girl, to live your life
And live your life

So you're leaving girl
To seal your fate
To see the world and run, run away
To see the sun to see the light
So you're leaving girl to catch the plane
To see the world and run right away
To see the sun to see the light
So you're leaving girl to live your life

Live your life
