In the corner of your mind
There's a place you go to hide
Where the lonely years reside
There's a secret life for sale
Watch the world inside your brain
Where the people come to say

Take the pieces of your life
Send the message to the sky
Mend the pieces of your mind
Take a look inside of you
Tell me what to say and do
Mend the pieces of your mind

In the corner of your head
Where the world sits back instead
And the pieces that you'll send
There's a light that sights unseen
Watch the world in slide machines
In the corner of your dream

Take the pieces of your life
Send the message to the sky
Mend the pieces of your mind
Take a look inside of you
Tell me what to say and do
Mend the pieces of your mind

Let the music play again
Let the songs all stay the same
Mend the pieces of your mind
Take the pieces of your life
Send the message to the sky
Mend the pieces of your mind
