Touch the sky, just before you die
Every breathe you take, each time you try
Life's a small price to pay for some piece of mind
In the blink of an eye, your life becomes a lie
Look into the mirror, is this what you love?
Make no mistake, this is no game
It's what's in your heart

We resist your filth
Our edge can never be dulled
Defeat is not an option
To our strength, no one can compare

You can't compare

Look to the sky, as you start to cry
Never lose sight of this life long fight
You can't bring us down
You can't bring me down
Every breath you take

We grow stronger

We resist your filth
Our edge can never be dulled
Defeat is not an option
To our strength, no one can compare

You can't compare

The time has come
For us to show the world
This is our life
The only one we have to live

Never give up
Never close your eyes
Or in the end, it will mean your demise
