I live for you, I'd die for you
This is all I have known
Since day one and it's been good to me
To all who show respect, this goes out to you
Where would we be today?
If not for the ones who suffered
Time and time again, few try and try
Tell us we should turn our backs
On this great home we've made
Turn our backs, no!
Plenty of people should take their liberal pride
And cast it aside
What do they want from us?
To cater for those who care not?
They should do for themselves
And stop being so lazy
They should do for themselves
And stop being so fucking lazy
Work hard and you will get your just rewards
Freedom comes easy, but not without a price
How would you feel, if we turned our backs to you?

Work hard and you will get your rewards
Work hard and you will get your just rewards
Work hard and you will get your just rewards

Freedom comes easy, but not without a price
It's time to fess up to what we hold so true
